Council Member Mihalkanin abstained from the item to avoid the appearance of impropriety and left the Council Chambers.

Kristy Stark provided the Council with a presentation regarding the expansion of the boundaries of the Lindsey-Rogers/Hopkins Street Historic Districts.

Mayor Thomaides opened the Public Hearing at 7:57 p.m.

Diana Baker, 727 Belvin Street, Chair of the Historic Preservation Commission (HPC), pointed out that P&Z denied this but they recommended that a historic resources survey be conducted and that no zoning changes in the proposed expansion boundary are considered until the historic resources survey is completed. She stated the Belvin Street area was once overrun with old homes on the verge of demolition, but that people came in and began investing in them. She stated that if we need a survey then so be it, she asked that the HPC be involved in the process.

Wayne Kraemer, 733 Belvin Street, spoke about the group that spoke in opposition of the expansion of the historic districts on three points: 1) that expansion of the districts will limit development. He stated that this is a falsehood and that the Lindsey Hill development could still go forward. 2) The Lamar school is not pretty. Historic properties do not have to be pretty to be included in a historic district. 3) There are homes within the proposed expansion that are just not historic. He stated that the he lives in the Belvin Street District and that his home does not qualify as contributing, but he named a number of other properties in the area that do. He asked the Council to please approve the expansion.

Thea Dake, 220 Johnson Avenue, stated that the Council would have to be united in order to overturn the P&Z recommendation. She said that the Historic Neighborhoods are dependent to protect our City’s Heritage. She spoke about her home appearing on the Heritage Home Tour, and that they have helped teach people about our city’s history. She stated that every day people run, bike and walk in these historic districts, and that she has spoken to countless people that were attracted to San Marcos because of its beauty and history. She stated that the more historic preservation that we have then the better off we will be. She stated that businesses and other developments have marketed the historic values of San Marcos; she hopes that Council will support the rhetoric.

James Baker, 727 Belvin Street, spoke about the P&Z meeting and provided his motivations. He stated that this is more than just historic properties and it is more than just putting up a marker. He stated that it takes a lot of work to repair and maintain a historic structure. He stated that most of the people he has spoken in this city think that it is important to preserve historic buildings. He explained the tax credits that are available to homeowners. Mr. Baker stated that he doesn’t understand why someone wouldn’t want to be in the historic district. He asked to get an updated survey and review this again.

Leanne Smith, yielded her time to Kama Davis.

Kama Davis, 809 A Hazleton Street, stated that according to her statistics there are 71% in the Historic District that live in the district that want the expansion. She stated that if the Council does not pass this tonight then please complete a new survey. She stated that she would also like a neighborhood character study completed. She read about a historic district overlay that is in Lancaster. She read the preservation policies within that overlay district. She spoke about the reconstruction of historic structures within the district. She spoke about rebuilding of the Cornell Institute even though there is not an existing structure present. She asked the Mayor and Council to recuse if they have any financial interest in any of the potential developments within the proposed expansion area.

Shannon FitzPatrick, 625 Burt, asked the Council to approve the expansion and for the Council to adopt some design standards within the historic district. She referenced The Local and its coloring being vastly different from the historic downtown area. She asked that the Council consider design standards for historic areas.

Dianne Pape, 400 Blanco Street, addressed the expansion of the Lindsey-Rogers Historic District. She and her husband are concerned about the expansion. She loves the flavor of their neighborhood, but this area is not made of single-family dwellings. She stated that it is apparent that the Lindsey Hill Development has created a crucible. She hopes that the leaders in this community can accept and be open to new ideas and perspectives.

Sandy Neese, 416 Blanco, stated that she loved that the Lamar School, but that there is nothing within the proposed expansion area that is very historic. She stated that this property is now on the tax rolls. She stated that there is a lot of walkability in the area. Ms. Neese stated that this has torn their neighborhood apart. She stated that there is only one giant that will take the property over, and that is Texas State. She mentioned that the developer is willing to work with the neighborhood. She would like to see something progressive in the area.

Amy Meeks, 832 Belvin, spoke about why she feels that this is right for San Marcos because the Historic Districts are so important to this city. She mentioned that if San Marcos did not have historic districts that it would still be a wonderful town, but it would be a very different wonderful town. She stated that we need to protect what we have and expansion of these districts. She said that this does not change the zoning. She reminded the Council that although P&Z denied it because they want more information and to have a historic resources survey be conducted Melissa Hodgkins, 504 and 510 Burleson spoke in support of the expansion of the historic districts. She agrees that there needs to be further study done. She stated that expanding historic districts helps protect and defend neighborhoods. She asked that the council revisit this issue after the survey has been conducted.

Mark Barons, 5742 Braesheather Drive, Houston, TX, spoke as the owner of the Lamar School annex. He stated that the historic district expansion should be done responsibly taking into account legitimate public policy objectives, and balancing those objectives and respect for private property rights. He stated that historic designation decisions should not politicized or abused. He stated that Lindsey Hill already has plans in place to ensure that it will be compatible within the area. He spoke about their review of the City’s comprehensive plan and the community comments and outreach that they did within this area. They have a goal to be a center of community connection and doing that through a design that harmonizes with their surroundings.

Camille Phillips, PO Box 172, she spoke in favor of this expansion and stated that she has been involved with neighborhood preservation throughout the community for 21 years. She does not want San Marcos to turn into a second-class copy of Austin or San Antonio. She spoke about the historical significance of the Lamar School and that it is history worth preserving.

There being no further speakers, Mayor Thomaides closed the public hearing 8:35 p.m.
